24 May 2019 The Road to Optimum Nutrition #saltmatters

“The Road to Optimum Nutrition #saltmatters” is an open Health & Nutrition conference that will focus on a scientific approach to salt and health, give new insights on the effects of salt on health and on ways to better communicate about dietary choices. As part of the effort to work on a more positive positioning of salt we will focus, , in the second part of the conference, on salt fortification, contributing to achieve optimum nutrition. We will tackle the case of iodised salt with harmonised salt iodisation being the route to pursue in order to eradicate Iodine Deficiency Disorders in Europe and globally.
